The Office of Career and Technical Education is one of four agencies in the Education and Workforce Development Cabinet's Department for Workforce Investment. OCTE is responsible for administration of the Kentucky Tech school district – the first technical education system in the nation to become SACS-CASI accredited because of its continuous improvement process.

Kentucky Tech's 53 area technology centers (ATCs) are strategically located in small to medium sized communities throughout the state. Why? ATCs were originally established in the 1960's to serve multiple school districts to provide program access because of cost. The 53 ATCs serve 129 local school districts. It is a goal of the OCTE, the Department for Workforce Investment and the Education and Workforce Development Cabinet to create a collaborative relationship with local school districts to enhance growth in Kentucky's educational community.

With a vision to actively engage all students in the mastery of academic and technical skills, the primary purpose of ATCs is to enhance and expand options students need to be ready for college and a career. All 53 Kentucky Tech ATCs have industry certified programs and teachers.
